Commission recognizes UTI campuses in Houston, Texas, and Lisle, Ill, as well as UTI's NASCAR Technical Institute (Mooresville, N.C.), for academic achievement and commitment to education

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., Oct. 1, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Universal Technical Institute (UTI: NYSE) campuses in Houston, Texas, and Lisle, Illinois, have been named 2019 "Schools of Excellence," as has the NASCAR Technical Institute (Mooresville, N.C.), a division of UTI. The distinction is the most prestigious institutional achievement awarded by the Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Colleges (ACCSC).

ACCSC is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as the designated accrediting body for more than 650 post-secondary, trade and technical schools that serve over 150,000 students nationwide in a variety of vocational programs each year. In 2019, UTI-Houston, UTI-Lisle and NASCAR Technical Institute are among just 17 ACCSC-accredited institutions across the country to be honored by ACCSC as "Schools of Excellence."

"This 'Schools of Excellence' designation is a true honor and testament to Universal Technical Institute employees and their heartfelt and unwavering commitment to our students and industry partners," said Kim McWaters, UTI President and CEO. "The best measure of our success is the achievement of our graduates and ability of the employers we serve to secure the trained workforce they require."

"ACCSC is incredibly proud of the work being done by UTI to offer innovative educational programs that enhance student success in the workforce. The Commission and professional staff at ACCSC enjoyed celebrating this significant achievement with UTI at the 2019 Professional Development Conference last week," noted Christopher Lambert, ACCSC's Associate Executive Director.

In addition to being named a "School of Excellence," UTI-Lisle Education Manager Justin Doerries was recognized individually as ACCSC's top educator of the year – an honor given to just one instructor annually. Justin received the prestigious Commitment to Education Award in recognition of his personal dedication to innovative, unique and effective educational programs that help students attain individual success, along with his community efforts to inspire a new generation of students to pursue rewarding careers in the skilled trades.

"It is the professional honor of a lifetime to receive the Commitment to Education Award and I share this recognition with my team, campus and the entire UTI organization for supporting a comprehensive, student-centric educational environment that embraces change, innovation and fun," said Justin Doerries, a Chicagoland native who is an alumnus of UTI. "Each and every day we are focused on fulfilling our mission of changing our students' lives by providing them the education, confidence and tools to be successful in their careers."
